

SAYLOR SENDS A SWEEPING DEF TO LIGHTWEIGHTS

Wants Bouts with Welsh, Mandot and Shugrue, Preferably Here.

HAS MET ALL THREE MEN IN RING BEFORE

Cross Training Hard for Coming Bout Pushes His Auto for Light Exercise.

It is likely that Milburn Saylor, the Indianapolis lightweight, will be seen in action in this city in the near future. His manager, Ray Bronson, the Indianapolis boy who once styled himself the welterweight champion of the world, is out with a sweeping challenge to the world at large, and Freddie Welsh, Joe Mandot and "Terry" Shugrue, in particular. More than some of the local prospects, and hopes to arrange one or more matches for his man. Saylor could be welcome in this city. He is a willing, free-fighting fighter, and a boxer of marked ability as well.

Saylor's desire to meet the three men named previously is actuallized by good and sufficient cause. He has boxed all three, but has yet to prove that he is the better man. He lost to Freddie Welsh in an alleged foul in nine rounds, but thrice dipped his colors to Joe Mandot, while he has won and lost in two contests with Terry Shugrue.

Naturally, it is his desire to arrange a match with Freddie Welsh and have his chance at winning the championship. Saylor never has been satisfied that he was not robbed when the referee of his match with Welsh decided that a foul blow had been struck by him. Many witnesses declared that the punch which laid the champion jaw was a foul.

Mandot has been one of the neatest midget jinxes in the world for Saylor. That first met on October 29, 1911, and Mandot won by a knockout in fifteen rounds. On April 24 the following year he was beaten in a ten-round re-match, and not long ago, in Boston Mandot downed him after twelve rounds, while Patsey Haley said "were the fastest he had ever seen."

Shugrue and Saylor met in two battles in Australia. The former came off victorious in the first contest, but in the second, held three weeks later, Saylor won in an impressive style. So now he wants to fight the thing out in New York.

Bronson also stands sponsor for a bantamweight, Chick Hayes. Hayes is after Kid Williams, and his record would impress the impression that he is to be reckoned with. He has beaten, among others, Eddie Coulon, Monk Fowler, Gabe Delmont, Gilbert Yankee, Artie Armstrong and Johnny Sinclair.

Some of these boys, although not well known in the East, are terrors in their own towns.

Leach Cross is working hard for a match with Phil Bloom at the Broadway Sporting Club on next Tuesday night. Phil declares that he will give the well known dentist the surprise of his young life. Cross also has been training in an automobile. He says that pushing the runabout home is becoming his favorite outdoor sport. Sam Wallach, his manager, declares that one ride with Leach has given him "The Perils of Pauline" looking like a Sunday school picnic.

Leach Cross is working hard for a match with Phil Bloom at the Broadway Sporting Club on next Tuesday night. Phil declares that he will give the well known dentist the surprise of his young life. Cross also has been training in an automobile. He says that pushing the runabout home is becoming his favorite outdoor sport. Sam Wallach, his manager, declares that one ride with Leach has given him "The Perils of Pauline" looking like a Sunday school picnic.

Al McCoy will face "Italian" Joe Gains in the match bout of ten rounds at the Federal A. C. on December 11.

Eddie McGroarty is trying to arrange a return match with Jimmy Clabby, which proves just how careless some people can be.

The bouts to-night will be as follows: Jimmy Kelley vs. "Wild Bill" Flaming at the Fairmont A. C. of The Bronx; Walter Mohr vs. Johnny Donan at the Irving A. C.; Marty Brown, "Battling Pete," at the Dexter Park A. C.; Ray Hatfield vs. "Soldier" Hart, at the Elm Park A. C.; "Young" Dick Wallace, at the Queens A. C.; Willie Cotton vs. "Farm" Sullivans at Brown's Gymnasium; Harry Candon vs. Bobby Reynolds, at the Broadway Sporting Club; Mike Mallin vs. "Knick" Eggers, at the Sharkey A. C.

COURT CALENDARS

The meaning of the line / is versus or against. Cases will be called in the order given.

Picked Schoolboy Elevens Meet on Gridiron To-day

Game at Ebbets Field for Belgian Relief Fund—Stamford to Face Everett High Team.

The scholastic football season has one game left. Two post-season games will be played this afternoon, and then all that will be left of the sport will be the memory. One of these games will take place at Ebbets Field between two all-star teams of high and preparatory school players for the benefit of the Belgian Relief Fund, starting at 2 o'clock. The other will be for the championship of the East, and Everett High School and Stamford High School will take the gridiron at Everett, Mass.

The game at Ebbets Field will be under the direction of "The Brooklyn Daily Eagle." The price of admission will be 25 cents, and entitle one to a seat in any part of the stands, including the boxes. It is expected that one of the greatest crowds that ever witnessed a scholastic game will be on hand when the critics were not wrong in naming them for the varsity eleven.

The players will be numbered and programmes will be distributed to every spectator free of charge.

A spectacular struggle is looked for between Stamford and Everett, although critics agree that the Massachusetts boys have the stronger team.

Their victory over Oak Park High School by a score of 80 to 80 has won them a place among the best prep school elevens in the country.

Nor may it be said that the Chicago lads were weak. They played good football, but were helpless before the attack of the Everett team, which was as powerful as it was baffling, as well conceived as it was versatile. Everett scored 500 points, in round numbers, against none for her opponents, all season.

Irving Walsh was sent for Josephine Burke to the St. John's Park Realty Company the northeast corner of West and Perry sts., known as 417, 418 and 419 West st. and 173 Perry st. It consists of three story brick buildings and a four-story two story frame house, having from 12 to 25 feet on West st.

High school football may be expected.

The teams are made up of boys of the Brooklyn teams who were named for all scholastic honors. They have been carefully coached for the last week, and all reports from coaches indicate that a most interesting game will be played.

The teams, for convenience, have been named the first and second teams.

As a matter of fact, there is little to choose between them, and it would not be surprising to see the so-called second string beat the eleven dubbed the "varsity." The second team is heavier and with such stars as Tuttle, Leyser, Dutch Karison and Al Love in the backfield will give a good account of itself. The second team will wear gray jerseys.

Broder, Williams, Cole, Firsching, Olson, Don Alford and Jack Bright are among the players who will wear the blue uniforms of the first team. All are recognized for their ability, and they will give of their best to prove that the critics were not wrong in naming them for the varsity eleven.

The players will be numbered and programmes will be distributed to every spectator free of charge.

A spectacular struggle is looked for between Stamford and Everett, although critics agree that the Massachusetts boys have the stronger team.

Their victory over Oak Park High School by a score of 80 to 80 has won them a place among the best prep school elevens in the country.

Nor may it be said that the Chicago lads were weak. They played good football, but were helpless before the attack of the Everett team, which was as powerful as it was baffling, as well conceived as it was versatile. Everett scored 500 points, in round numbers, against none for her opponents, all season.

Irving Walsh was sent for Josephine Burke to the St. John's Park Realty Company the northeast corner of West and Perry sts., known as 417, 418 and 419 West st. and 173 Perry st. It consists of three story brick buildings and a four-story two story frame house, having from 12 to 25 feet on West st.

High school football may be expected.

The teams are made up of boys of the Brooklyn teams who were named for all scholastic honors. They have been carefully coached for the last week, and all reports from coaches indicate that a most interesting game will be played.

The teams, for convenience, have been named the first and second teams.

As a matter of fact, there is little to choose between them, and it would not be surprising to see the so-called second string beat the eleven dubbed the "varsity." The second team is heavier and with such stars as Tuttle, Leyser, Dutch Karison and Al Love in the backfield will give a good account of itself. The second team will wear gray jerseys.

Broder, Williams, Cole, Firsching, Olson, Don Alford and Jack Bright are among the players who will wear the blue uniforms of the first team. All are recognized for their ability, and they will give of their best to prove that the critics were not wrong in naming them for the varsity eleven.

The players will be numbered and programmes will be distributed to every spectator free of charge.

A spectacular struggle is looked for between Stamford and Everett, although critics agree that the Massachusetts boys have the stronger team.

Their victory over Oak Park High School by a score of 80 to 80 has won them a place among the best prep school elevens in the country.

Nor may it be said that the Chicago lads were weak. They played good football, but were helpless before the attack of the Everett team, which was as powerful as it was baffling, as well conceived as it was versatile. Everett scored 500 points, in round numbers, against none for her opponents, all season.

Irving Walsh was sent for Josephine Burke to the St. John's Park Realty Company the northeast corner of West and Perry sts., known as 417, 418 and 419 West st. and 173 Perry st. It consists of three story brick buildings and a four-story two story frame house, having from 12 to 25 feet on West st.

High school football may be expected.

The teams are made up of boys of the Brooklyn teams who were named for all scholastic honors. They have been carefully coached for the last week, and all reports from coaches indicate that a most interesting game will be played.

The teams, for convenience, have been named the first and second teams.

As a matter of fact, there is little to choose between them, and it would not be surprising to see the so-called second string beat the eleven dubbed the "varsity." The second team is heavier and with such stars as Tuttle, Leyser, Dutch Karison and Al Love in the backfield will give a good account of itself. The second team will wear gray jerseys.

Broder, Williams, Cole, Firsching, Olson, Don Alford and Jack Bright are among the players who will wear the blue uniforms of the first team. All are recognized for their ability, and they will give of their best to prove that the critics were not wrong in naming them for the varsity eleven.

The players will be numbered and programmes will be distributed to every spectator free of charge.

A spectacular struggle is looked for between Stamford and Everett, although critics agree that the Massachusetts boys have the stronger team.

Their victory over Oak Park High School by a score of 80 to 80 has won them a place among the best prep school elevens in the country.

Nor may it be said that the Chicago lads were weak. They played good football, but were helpless before the attack of the Everett team, which was as powerful as it was baffling, as well conceived as it was versatile. Everett scored 500 points, in round numbers, against none for her opponents, all season.

Irving Walsh was sent for Josephine Burke to the St. John's Park Realty Company the northeast corner of West and Perry sts., known as 417, 418 and 419 West st. and 173 Perry st. It consists of three story brick buildings and a four-story two story frame house, having from 12 to 25 feet on West st.

High school football may be expected.

The teams are made up of boys of the Brooklyn teams who were named for all scholastic honors. They have been carefully coached for the last week, and all reports from coaches indicate that a most interesting game will be played.

The teams, for convenience, have been named the first and second teams.

As a matter of fact, there is little to choose between them, and it would not be surprising to see the so-called second string beat the eleven dubbed the "varsity." The second team is heavier and with such stars as Tuttle, Leyser, Dutch Karison and Al Love in the backfield will give a good account of itself. The second team will wear gray jerseys.

Broder, Williams, Cole, Firsching, Olson, Don Alford and Jack Bright are among the players who will wear the blue uniforms of the first team. All are recognized for their ability, and they will give of their best to prove that the critics were not wrong in naming them for the varsity eleven.

The players will be numbered and programmes will be distributed to every spectator free of charge.

A spectacular struggle is looked for between Stamford and Everett, although critics agree that the Massachusetts boys have the stronger team.

Their victory over Oak Park High School by a score of 80 to 80 has won them a place among the best prep school elevens in the country.

Nor may it be said that the Chicago lads were weak. They played good football, but were helpless before the attack of the Everett team, which was as powerful as it was baffling, as well conceived as it was versatile. Everett scored 500 points, in round numbers, against none for her opponents, all season.

Irving Walsh was sent for Josephine Burke to the St. John's Park Realty Company the northeast corner of West and Perry sts., known as 417, 418 and 419 West st. and 173 Perry st. It consists of three story brick buildings and a four-story two story frame house, having from 12 to 25 feet on West st.

High school football may be expected.

The teams are made up of boys of the Brooklyn teams who were named for all scholastic honors. They have been carefully coached for the last week, and all reports from coaches indicate that a most interesting game will be played.

The teams, for convenience, have been named the first and second teams.

As a matter of fact, there is little to choose between them, and it would not be surprising to see the so-called second string beat the eleven dubbed the "varsity." The second team is heavier and with such stars as Tuttle, Leyser, Dutch Karison and Al Love in the backfield will give a good account of itself. The second team will wear gray jerseys.

Broder, Williams, Cole, Firsching, Olson, Don Alford and Jack Bright are among the players who will wear the blue uniforms of the first team. All are recognized for their ability, and they will give of their best to prove that the critics were not wrong in naming them for the varsity eleven.

The players will be numbered and programmes will be distributed to every spectator free of charge.

A spectacular struggle is looked for between Stamford and Everett, although critics agree that the Massachusetts boys have the stronger team.

Their victory over Oak Park High School by a score of 80 to 80 has won them a place among the best prep school elevens in the country.

Nor may it be said that the Chicago lads were weak. They played good football, but were helpless before the attack of the Everett team, which was as powerful as it was baffling, as well conceived as it was versatile. Everett scored 500 points, in round numbers, against none for her opponents, all season.

Irving Walsh was sent for Josephine Burke to the St. John's Park Realty Company the northeast corner of West and Perry sts., known as 417, 418 and 419 West st. and 173 Perry st. It consists of three story brick buildings and a four-story two story frame house, having from 12 to 25 feet on West st.

High school football may be expected.

The teams are made up of boys of the Brooklyn teams who were named for all scholastic honors. They have been carefully coached for the last week, and all reports from coaches indicate that a most interesting game will be played.

The teams, for convenience, have been named the first and second teams.

As a matter of fact, there is little to choose between them, and it would not be surprising to see the so-called second string beat the eleven dubbed the "varsity." The second team is heavier and with such stars as Tuttle, Leyser, Dutch Karison and Al Love in the backfield will give a good account of itself. The second team will wear gray jerseys.

Broder, Williams, Cole, Firsching, Olson, Don Alford and Jack Bright are among the players who will wear the blue uniforms of the first team. All are recognized for their ability, and they will give of their best to prove that the critics were not wrong in naming them for the varsity eleven.

The players will be numbered and programmes will be distributed to every spectator free of charge.

A spectacular struggle is looked for between Stamford and Everett, although critics agree that the Massachusetts boys have the stronger team.

Their victory over Oak Park High School by a score of 80 to 80 has won them a place among the best prep school elevens in the country.

Nor may it be said that the Chicago lads were weak. They played good football, but were helpless before the attack of the Everett team, which was as powerful as it was baffling, as well conceived as it was versatile. Everett scored 500 points, in round numbers, against none for her opponents, all season.

Irving Walsh was sent for Josephine Burke to the St. John's Park Realty Company the northeast corner of West and Perry sts., known as 417, 418 and 419 West st. and 173 Perry st. It consists of three story brick buildings and a four-story two story frame house, having from 12 to 25 feet on West st.

High school football may be expected.

The teams are made up of boys of the Brooklyn teams who were named for all scholastic honors. They have been carefully coached for the last week, and all reports from coaches indicate that a most interesting game will be played.

The teams, for convenience, have been named the first and second teams.